

A decorative graphic on the left side of the slide consisting of two overlapping parallelograms. The front one is blue and the back one is a light green. They are positioned diagonally, with the blue one partially covering the green one.

Live To Rock - I1

Traigh, Jacob, Cass, Kc

Quick Summary

Our project is for Live To Rock, which is a non-profit website that provides a community for those that are suffering from chronic illnesses and musically inclined.

This iteration our focus was on registering users and adding them to a database. (spoiler alert) Then, users being able to post their own YouTube videos onto the website via a wordpress plugin that we created.

Mentor Feedback

Halfway through:

Encouraging the idea of making a plugin.

End of:

It looks good, the functionality for a first iteration is good, and offered to help find resources for php outside of WP documentation.

Client Feedback

It looks good! Formatting is off but we already explained we planned to fix it.

Emphasized making sure the videos can't be spammed, and he approved of our future features.

He also approved of our iteration 2 features and getting the main features of the website functioning.

Posting Life Performances

This feature will allow the users to paste a link to their YouTube video in the text field.

Once they press the submit button, their Life Performance will be posted to the page.

Post Your Life Performance?

Paste YouTube URL here:

SUBMIT!

Next Features?

Make it to where Spam/Scam bots are unable to interact with the website

Admins can post to Tour Schedule (Calendar), Backstage Pass (Podcasts), Jam Session (Blog Posts), Liner Notes (Resources)

Blog Posts can be created in Jam Session

Blog Posts can be posted in Jam Session

Our Thoughts on This Iteration

Traigh, Cass, Jacob, Kc

Sacrifices: The “Easy” way, the admin panel

Approaching Iteration 2: With a new perspective and knowledge, we’re gonna start coding sooner and implement testing.

Now for the Results